April Birthday Invitations and Ideas For a Great Spring Party

By Amy Carter

April can be the perfect time to host a birthday party. While the weather can be a little too unpredictable to host an all-outdoor party, there are many great indoor activities to keep your party guests entertained. Or if you do make a plan for some outdoor activities, have some indoor games planned too, just in case you get the worst of the weather. Think about incorporating spring themes, colors and décor accents and you'll have a great April bash in no time.

Invitations

Big and bright patterns are perfect for an April birthday invitation. A little girls' birthday invitation would look perfect in shades of pink, purple or yellow. And a little boy's birthday invitation looks great in hues of blue and green. Spring sports are starting around this time in school so you might want to center your invitations and activities on your birthday kid's favorite sport.

For grown up parties, April is perfect for 'April Fool's Day' themes with jokes and pranks galore. April is also tax time. Your guests might get a kick out of an invitation that looks like a tax form or a note from the IRS. After tax day (April 15) everyone needs a reason to celebrate, so your April birthday is right on time.

Games

April birthdays are about more than just cake and presents. You should have some great games and activities in mind. Once you've got your games and activities in mind, use that theme to add some style to your birthday invitations. Try to make your games indoor/outdoor friendly as you just can't tell about the weather. Send your birthday invitation and invite guests to an April scavenger hunt. Just like an Easter egg hunt, have your guests hunt for hidden items – perfect in the yard or in the house.

Outdoor sports and games like kickball, baseball or soccer are great fun, but if your game is called on account of weather, have a backup plan. An interactive video game might be a nice treat if you're stuck inside.

Locations

You might not be crazy about having your birthday guests traipsing in and out of your house. In this instance you might want to host your party at an alternate location. April is a great time for a birthday party at a local recreation center with indoor and outdoor spaces. You might also try a kid-focused restaurant with games and activities for your young party-goers. Or try a movie theater. Some cinemas offer space for your party and then a package deal on a movie for your whole group. Any of these locations can offer you a great opportunity to send a fun themed birthday invitation. You might be tempted to try an outdoor space, but remember its not quite summer yet – hold off until May or June just to be safe.

April is a great time for a fun spring party. Lots of spring themes and colors can lend style to your décor and birthday invitations. Keep in mind that Easter and Passover are both in April, so don't make any plans to interfere with that and you'll all set.

Looking for Birthday Party Ideas? Here are some great ideas.

Having a memorable birthday party means coming up with some great birthday party ideas. If you are having a birthday party for your child or anyone who is a child at heart, you will want to plan it to be fun and exciting! Birthday parties are a great excuse to meet friends and family and enjoy a day of laughter and smiles. Having some basic plans for the day, will make in not only go smoothly, but it will allow the planner time to enjoy themselves as well.

Think all you need to do is buy a few presents and a cake and call it a day? Doing some extra planning makes it fun and enjoyable for everyone. For instance, take a few minutes at the nearest craft store or maybe party supply store and look at all the birthday party supplies available. You will definitely find things like birthday party invitations and decorations, but you will also find birthday party games and even birthday party theme ideas! Especially if you are planning a kids birthday party, you will want to pick a theme. Themes can range from children's characters like Elmo and Disney characters to simple things like horses or cars. Find something that fits the child's tastes and interests well. You can usually find table clothes, invitations, balloons, birthday party favors, and more to match the theme you have chosen.

Of course, you can always make the birthday party a surprise! This element works well on just about anyone. Try doing this with an adult who thinks their birthday has gone unnoticed. Or, a child who thinks they are just getting a few toys and pizza! What a memory that will be! Don't want a surprise? Try planning the birthday party as a nice dinner out with just the closest of friends. Find out what their favorite restaurant is or favorite theme park. Make it a picnic or a day at the beach.

Birthday's aren't just about getting a few gifts. They are about family and friends celebrating the day a person special to them was born. They are about celebrating the life that person leads and showing affections and respect. Make it special to that person. While you may enjoy a big party with lots of people, others would rather a quiet night at home with a few close friends. Great food, great friends and family, and a day planned in their honor will make any person feel special and feel important. This is what we hope to gain in a birthday party, right?
