

The Wolf & The Crane

Reading Comprehension Activity Book

Original Story by Æsop for Children
Group 1 – Book 11

Name _____ Date _____

By Donnette E Davis

Preface:

Welcome to our collection of comprehension activity books for early readers. I have sourced public domain material for these books and have adapted and digitally reconstructed them to fulfil the purpose of these books.

Probably the single most important aspect of your child's early academic development is learning to read and acquiring and sustaining a love of reading. Of course any child's interest needs to be perked in order for them to want to read and read and read and slowly progress from simple books with large illustrations and words to longer books with fewer illustrations and smaller words. The journey to a love of reading is rarely accomplished overnight, but once you have reached that destination, a whole new world will open up for your child where he or she can visit places only dreamed about, live in that beautiful castle, become friends with the fairies and take a safari trip to Africa, perhaps even journey to the centre of the earth!

At the end of this story you will find notes for discussion and comprehension questions. In groups 1, 2 and 3 I have no doubt that your child will require some assistance in understanding the questions. This is where I encourage fun interaction between educator and learner. It may be so that you will need to record their answers and suggestions on the pages required. This subtle exercise will go far to show you in a year or less how far your child has progressed and where his or her interests lie and to enhance and encourage a love of reading. Positive interaction between you and your child will make this a fun learning experience as he or she watches you do your "homework". Who said homeschooling isn't hands on? ☺

You will be able to decide which questions and discussion points are appropriate for your child. The purpose of this exercise is to establish the understanding of the story and the concept and to enhance concentration, listening and reading skills.

I really do hope that you and your child enjoy doing these exercises as much as Savannah, Clarissa and myself have enjoyed compiling them. I cannot stress enough the importance of allowing your child to develop at his or her own pace. There is no need to progress to a more advanced book, no matter how short, until you are your child are quite confident that he or she has grasped the first story and that he or she is quite comfortable with the discussion and questions that are an integral part of this reading comprehension activity. As always I wish you and your child a most blessed, fun and informative educational journey. ☺

The Nitty Gritty: We would love to hear your comments on this workbook. If you have a moment please email your comments and suggestions to feedback@staidenshomeschool.com

This unit is provided on a NON-PROFIT basis and in certain circumstances it is provided free of charge. This unit may NOT be sold on under any circumstances by any unauthorised person or persons/individuals, companies/organisations or educational institutions, nor may it or any portion thereof be uploaded to any website locally or internationally. Nor may it be amended, altered, appended to, edited, and may only be used in its entirety and original format without addition amendment or omission. Thank you for respecting international copyright laws. ☺ A Million thanks to Cherry Carl (USA) for having been my inspiration in these works.

Donnette E Davis - First Published November 2008
© 2008 St Aiden's Homeschool, Republic of South Africa
Post Office Box 13720
Cascades
3202
KwaZulu-Natal
Republic of South Africa

THE WOLF AND THE CRANE

A Wolf had been feasting too greedily, and a bone had stuck crosswise in his throat. He could not get it up or down, and of course he could not eat a thing.

Naturally that was an awful state of affairs for a greedy Wolf.

So away he hurried to the Crane. He was sure that she, with her long neck and bill, would easily be able to reach the bone and pull it out.

"I will reward you very handsomely," said the Wolf, "if you pull that bone out for me."

The Crane, as you can imagine, was very uneasy about putting her head in a Wolf's throat. But she was grasping in nature, so she did what the Wolf asked her to do.

When the Wolf felt that the bone was gone, he started to walk away.

"But what about my reward!" called the Crane anxiously.

"What!" snarled the Wolf, whirling around. "Haven't you got it? Isn't it enough that I let you take your head out of my mouth without snapping it off?"

The Moral of this story:

Expect no reward for serving the wicked

The End.

Comprehension Questions

Note to Parents: Your little one will probably need some assistance with the questions, in explaining some of the phrases. Allow him or her to describe their answer in detail. It may be beneficial to ask him or her to draw pictures to illustrate the answer, or, if you prefer, it is fun to record the answers yourself and refer back to them in a few months' time. You will be the best person to choose which questions are appropriate for your child.

QUESTIONS:

- 1) Where did this story take place?
- 2) What happened there?
- 3) Who was involved?
- 4) Who is the main character?
- 5) What is another way the story could have ended?
- 6) Is there a lesson to learn in this story?
- 7) What is it?

ANSWERS

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____

4. _____

5. _____

6. _____

7. _____

Can you draw a picture from this story?

What have you drawn in your picture? Can you describe it?

Filename: the wolf and the crane 11
Directory: C:\Documents and Settings\DONNETTE DAVIS\My Documents\COMPREHENSION\GROUP 1
Template: Normal.dot
Title: Reading Comprehension Activity Book
Subject: Group 1 - fables & fairy tales reading comprehension activity book
Author: DONNETTE E DAVIS
Keywords: Group 1 - fables & fairy tales reading comprehension activity book
Comments: Group 1 - fables & fairy tales reading comprehension activity book (c) 2008
Creation Date: 10/27/2008 11:09:00 PM
Change Number: 3
Last Saved On: 10/27/2008 11:10:00 PM
Last Saved By: DONNETTE DAVIS
Total Editing Time: 3 Minutes
Last Printed On: 10/27/2008 11:10:00 PM
As of Last Complete Printing
Number of Pages: 6
Number of Words: 1,058 (approx.)
Number of Characters: 6,034 (approx.)